Candidates Draw Ballot Positions for Primaries Today

Crowd Fills Room As Fate Decides Ballot Positions

Many Candidates Draw For Selves, Others Depend Upon Substitutes

COUNTY COMMISSIONER DRAWING DONE FIRST

First Place, Thought To Be Worth Many Votes Sought For By All Aspirants

Drawing for places on the primary ballot was the magnet which attracted a large crowd of candidates to the court house this morning. The drawing was in court room No. 1

County Commissioner's clerk, William A. Eakin was in charge, with county commissioner T. J. McCullough and Miss Sarah F. Weinschenk, of the commissioners office, acting as tellers.

Paraphernalia Simple

The drawing paraphernalia was simple. It consisted of a small round box, like that used for rolled oats. There were sixteen balls, about the size of marbles. Each ball contained a number.

The balls were shaken in the box and the candidate, whose name was called, reached in the box and drew out a number. The lowest number drawn got first place on the ballot, the next lowest second, and so on down the list.

When a candidate whose name was called failed to respond, some one drew for him.

The drawing started in with the mayor, then with the city treasurer and city council, followed by less important offices.

The county drawing started with

PA NEWC OBSERVES

Borrowers from the public library understand the new system quite well now and it takes just a short time to check out books now. However there are a few who insist upon writing their name on the book cards instead of their borrower's card number.

Today was drawing day for the host of candidates for the city and county political offices. They assembled at the court house and drew out paper slips bearing numbers which designate their positions on the September election ballot.

Pa Newc has heard so much about that $500 aerial map of New Castle that he went to see it today at the city building. The map stands five or six feet high and certainly is clear cut. It was photographed in sections and then put together.

The local Y. W. C. A. staff will have two new members when the fall activities commence. It will have a new executive secretary to take the place of Miss Frances Carey who resigned, and a Girl Reserve secretary to carry on the work of Miss Grace Lowers, also resigned.

Pa Newc is delighted about the attention North Rav street is getting. Remember the rough and steep descent onto Croton avenue? It will be just a memory very shortly, for it is being paved.

Who ever it is who takes care of the hedge on Atlantic avenue near the corner of West Washington street deserves a great big compliment. The hedge is undoubtedly the prettiest in the city.

The city's merchants are broadcasting far and wide their third annual picnic affair, scheduled to O'Callaghan, of Duquesne University, Pittsburgh, four better. Hurd, who has had only a high school education, declares his method is the only true one. Solution of the problem had been believed impossible for 2,500 years until President O'Callaghan recently announced his ability to trisect an angle one way.

OFFICERS ARE WELL PLEASED

(International News Service)

LANCASTER, Pa., Aug. 18—Functioning like veterans, troopers of the 52nd cavalry brigade of the Pennsylvania National Guard today continued their advance against a mythical red army invading Pennsylvania through the Maryland mountain passes.

Breaking camp near Columbia where they secured the crossing of the Susquehanna against red cavalry, the defending column of sabers today moved on Lancaster, with trains and provisions carried to sustain the troopers in supposedly enemy territory.

With advance guard and points out, the mounted column covered nearly 12 days before establishing camp in the fields near the Lancaster fair grounds.

SHOWGIRL BLONDE IS IMPLICATED

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Aug. 18.—Fresh mystery was injected today into the case of Hisashi Fukimura, rich Japanese importer, who disappeared from the deck of the incoming liner Belgenland.

His almond-eyed and amazed wife declared she had never heard of the showgirl, blonde and pretty, whom he had taken with him on the liner's whoopee cruise as "governess" for their young daughter.

"I never employed any such person," the wife said.

She hurried to New York from her home in Norwalk, Conn., to make a personal investigation.

Few Survivors Of Gallant Regiment Left For Reunion

Annual Roundhead Reunion Wednesday Will See Few Able To Attend

PARTICIPATED IN 24 MAJOR BATTLES

Reunion To Be Held In Central Presbyterian Church At Noon Dinner

Memorable times in the stirring annals of the Civil War will be recalled tomorrow when surviving members of the famous Roundheads, 100th Regiment Pennsylvania Volunteers, will gather for the 66th annual reunion of the Society of the Roundheads to be held in the Central Presbyterian church.

One of the most famous fighting machines in the Civil War, organized by Dr. Daniel Leasure, a New Castle citizen, the Roundheads had a membership of 2,014 during the conflict of the states. But the years have decimated the ranks, and when the roll call is made at the reunion tomorrow it will be found that only 45 men are alive today who took part in the 24 battles for which the Roundheads won renown.

Brings Back Comrades

The reunion will bring together the comrades who answered Abraham Lincoln's call for volunteers. The crack regiment that was destined to become the envy of the generals in the Union army, found its nucleus in the old Lawrence Guards of New Castle, and the descendants, proud of their soldier fathers and grandfathers, will attend the society's dinner and reunion to revive old memories of the days when this city was in the throes of excitement of a great Civil War.

The president of the society, James P. Sankey, of Crafton, Pa., himself a surviving member of Company K of the Roundhead regiment, will preside at the ceremonies. A reunion committee has made extensive plans to make this gather-

State Fights Road Closing

State Defeated In First Skirmish Over Closing Of Fallston Road By Borough

(International News Service)

BEAVER, Pa., Aug. 18.—Defeated in their first legal skirmish seeking to remove a barricade on Fallston hill, state route 51, officials of the attorney general's office today prepared arguments on their petition for an injunction to restrain the borough of Fallston from maintaining the road blockade.

The road was blockaded recently when borough officials decided the highway at that point was too hazardous for motor vehicle traffic.

Judges Frank E. Reader and William A. McConnell yesterday declined to issue a temporary injunction sought by the state, but set Saturday, Aug. 22, as the date for arguments.

Samuel S. Lewis, secretary of the State Highway Department, served notice on the borough last week that unless the barricades were removed within 48 hours the department would take legal action to effect a clearance of the road.

Giant German Zeppelin Will Make First Descent On English Soil Late This Evening

(International News Service)

FRIEDRICHSHAFEN, Aug. 18.—The Graf Zeppelin left its hangar on the shore of Lake Constance for Hanworth airdrome, near London, at 7:05 a. m. today in command of her veteran skipper, Dr. Hugo Eckener, who said that he expected to arrive there before sunset.

The landing at Hanworth will mark the first peaceful descent of a Zeppelin on English soil. During the war Zeppelins bombarded London time after time and several went down in flames.

The Graz Zeppelin has 21 passengers aboard. She will land these at Hanworth, take on others for a cruise of Great Britain and return to Hanworth Wednesday. The homeward flight will begin Thursday morning.

By JAMES R. YOUNG

TOKYO, Aug. 18.—The Lindberghs were still awaiting at Petrapavlovsk, Kamchatka, today for the storm over the Kurile Island to clear so they could take off for Nemuro, Japan.

Nemuro and the thin line of islands leading north to Kamchatka were shrouded in a mist that gave no signs of lifting.

Meanwhile Nemuro remained in a state of feverish excitement in anticipation of the flying American Colonel and his wife. The little city on the island of Hokkaido was crowded with photographers, newspapermen and visitors from surrounding villages anxious to be among the first to welcome the famous couple to Japan.

Reports Conflict On Cuban Revolt

Havana Of Opinion That Revolt Has Been Crushed By Federal Government

REPORT REBELS CONCENTRATING

(International News Service)

HAVANA, Aug. 18.—Although 2,000 well-armed rebels were reported concentrated for a battle near Trinidad, Santa Clara Province, Havana was of the opinion today that President Machado's statement that the insurrection had definitely been crushed was true.

Many attributed its failure to the non-intervention policy of the United States and some newspapers referred to Harry F. Guggenheim, American ambassador, as "the man of the hour".

For some time, it has been known that the ambassador had sought to bring about a peaceful agreement between the opposition parties and the president. His offices, however, were said to have been entirely unofficial.

"I Can't Give You Anything But Love" Seems To Be Jack's Attitude

"WANTS TO MAKE IT EASY ON HIM"

(International News Service)

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 18.—Estelle Taylor's suite for divorce against Jack Dempsey, former heavyweight boxing champion, in answer to the one he filed in Reno yesterday, will be filed here today, Miss Taylor having last night signed her complaint, charging extreme cruelty.

When it was announced that Dempsey would file suit, Miss Taylor, through her lawyers, stated she would fight it. "If there's going to be any divorce obtained, I'm going to be the one to get it," she said.

Dempsey suit contained no details of the asserted acts of mental cruelty and declares only that the couple was married in San Diego February 17, 1925.

Only Wants $40,000

After signing her charges Miss Taylor explained the deadlock in their property settlement negotiations, which precipitated the filing of the two suits and a contested divorce.

"It was such a little thing that I insisted upon," she said. "My great devotion to Jack is what caused me to ask for so little. He is always saying he is broke and I wanted to be as easy as possible on him."

The "little thing" she demanded was $40,000. With this amount she planned to pay a mortgage on her home, a mammoth place given her by Jack as a wedding present, to complete payments on a large car and to pay her attorney's fees.

Farm Board Finds Governors Oppose Destruction Idea

Senator Borah Would Give It To Famine Stricken Chinese To Create Market

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.—King Cotton and King Wheat still straddled the neck of the Federal Farm Board today after a week of prodigous but futile effort to dislodge them.

The board's revolutionary plan to reduce the cotton surplus by destroying a third of the crop now ready for harvest has fallen flat.

Criticize Plan

Every southern governor to whom the proposition was addressed found something wrong with it. Some of them merely dismissed it as being impractical. Others, like "Alfalfa Bill" Murray of Oklahoma, who is an exponent of direct action, denounced it as unconstitutional.

Faced with this situation, and apparently undecided on future moves, the harassed farm board is marking time on cotton, apparently hoping that some miraculous intervention will appear and solve the problem. The board would sincerely welcome

NEW YORK, Aug. 18.—With two women, his wife and his sweetheart, both professing their love for him and a gubernatorial investigation of his official conduct under way, State Senator Roy T. Yates of New Jersey was reported slightly improved today.

He was shot in the abdomen last Friday in the apartment of Miss Ruth Jayne Cranmer, who called herself his "social secretary" and since has been in a critical condition.

The suspect in the robbery was interviewed by County Detective Lee, assistant J. B. Rocks and Corporal Shcmidt of the Butler State Police barracks, who arrived in Struthers a short time after Carbone's arrest.

The district attorney plans to start extradition proceedings should Carbone refuse to waive extradition. County Detective believes the arrested youth participated in the robbery, which he declares, was perpetrated by a gang of four or five members.

tle between Fujimura and three other passengers aboard the ship were obtained by detectives. These indicated that he might have been slain and his body tossed overboard. Another theory was that he may have leaped into the sea to escape the merciless beating of his assailants, and there appeared a further possibility that he might have committed suicide.

Coast guard cutters searched the Atlantic in the vicinity of Ambrose Light for his body in the hope that it may help solve the strange case.

The actress, Miss Mary Reisner, remained in seclusion in her lavishly appointed apartment here.

The only statement she has made so far was a brief quotation supposedly from the missing man when the liner docked at the Red Star pier last Friday and Fukimura was found to have disappeared. She said then that he had remarked while on the outbound voyage:

"I am very sorry I made this trip. I've regretted it ever since I came aboard."

It was indicated she would be held in high bail, pending the outcome of the senator's wound. If Yates dies, authorities said they would hold the beautiful blonde on murder charges.

No report had been made of the investigation launched by Governor Larsen of New Jersey after two state checks were found in the girl's apartment. She had been employed as a "research worker" by the pension survey commission of New Jersey of which Yates was chairman. She also owned a pass permitting her to ride on all railways in New Jersey.

It was reported today that Governor Larson might hold up a report until the senator was able to speak his defense.

This playful (?) lion cub was so anxious to see his likeness in a London paper that he's demonstrating his fondness for "snaps" by giving the photographer one.

Union Organizers Are Fired Upon By Unknown Assailants

Bitter Feeling Aroused In Reading District By Proposed Strike Of Hosiery Workers

(International News Service)

READING, Pa., Aug. 18.—The bitter feeling aroused between union and non-union workers by the proposed strike of full fashioned hosiery workers in the Reading district flared up today as seven shots were fired into a tent occupied by union organizers shortly before dawn.

The leaden pellets, apparently discharged from a shotgun, penetrated the tent in which Emil Rieve, president of the hosiery workers; William Smith, secretary-treasurer; Edward Callaghan, general representative; William Leader of the Philadelphia district union, Harry Haines and John E. Edelman were sleeping. No one was injured.

The shots aroused the entire camp and a search was started for the gun wielders, but they escaped into a cornfield under the cover of darkness.

Union officials charged the shots were fired in an effort to intimidate them into calling off the strike They also asserted threatening telephone calls had been received in the last few days in an organized plan of intimidation and to frustrate the drive to unionize all the mills.

The program for the day calls for a business session following the banquet. One of the highlights of the gathering will be an inspection of photographs taken of old members of the regiment.

Other officers of the society in addition to the president, Mr. Sankey follow: William H. Dunlap and Ralph M. Campbell, New Castle, vice presidents; Rev. J. R. Rankin, Butler, chaplain; Miss Anna L. Gilliland, New Castle, secretary and treasurer; Miss Laura M. Stevenson, New Castle, honorary secretary; Miss Gyla McDowell, Beaver Falls, chairman of the historical committee. ### FARM BOARD FINDS GOVERNOR OPPOSE DESTRUCTION IDEA some cotton plague similar to the grasshopper blight that has been wrecking havoc in the grain fields of the northwest. Bigger and better boll weevils would be joyously received.

As for wheat, a potential market for a part of the board's enormous holdings appeared today in famine-ridden China.

With millions of Chinese reported starving in the flooded Yangtze river valley, the Chinese government has addressed an informal inquiry to the board, requesting information as to price and credit terms for an unspecified amount of the board's wheat stocks.

China A Possibility

A proposition was being fabricated today for the Chinese. The understanding is it will be made as attractive as possible, for China appears the one possible spot on the globe where the harassed board may find an opportunity to dispose of some of its holdings.

Probably little can be realized even if the sale goes through to China. Chinese governments are proverbially broke, and it is accepted that any propositiion will have to embrace an extremely low price and extremely advantageous terms as to credit.

Thus an enormous loss to the board and to the government is almost inescapable in any deal. The board holds more than 200,000,000 bushels of wheat which it bought at prices ranging up to $1.60 a bushel. If China could be persuaded to buy any considerable amount at 25 cents a bushel the board probably would consider itself lucky.

Any terms, however, are better than none at all. Recently, Senator Borah (R) of Idaho, advocated giving the wheat outright to China, to get it off the market, where it has a deadening effect on current prices; to relieve an admittedly serious famine situation in China, and lastly, to possibly create a future market for American wheat in the Orient.

China is not a wheat-producing nor a wheat-consuming nation. Rice is the great staple in the Orient. It has been thought by Borah and others that the gift of American wheat to China would educate the Chinese to the value of the grain, and thus possibly create a future and continuing demand for it.

VATICAN-FASCIST DISPUTE SETTLED REPORTED TODAY

nouncement that an accord was pending made a week ago by International News Service.

The Catholic youth clubs were suppressed about three months ago by Premier Mussolini, who charged that they were being used as a cloak for interference with internal Italian politics. He alleged that they harbored politicians hostile to the fascist regime.

Mussolini's charges angered fascist extremists who raided numerous clubs and attacked several other Catholic organizations. The Pope demanded reparations for damages and denied that the clubs were anything but religious in their nature.

Musolini Adamant

Several notes were exchanged between the Quirinal and the Vatican and the quarrel apparently reached an impasse when Mussolini declared that he definitely intended to keep the education of Italian children under the direction of the state.

But the Pope refused to acquiesce and issued a long encyclical denouncing the fascist ideal of the state, declaring that it represented a reversion to paganism. The encyclical reviewed the whole quarrel and by inference made a bitter attack on Mussolini, something no other Italian had dared do since the famous fascist march on Rome.

A warning against substitutes for genuine Kotex

YES, some substitutes are cleverly made to look like Kotex. But that doesn't make them the same.

Are they clean, like Kotex? Scientifically made in surroundings of hospital cleanliness? Have modern methods been used, so that hands have never touched them?

These questions remain unanswered, when you accept a substitute of whose makers you know nothing. But these are questions of vital importance, because they are directly related to your health.

Accept no substitute of whose origin you are uncertain. Demand Kotex—the genuine. Hospitals use Kotex. It fully meets their requirements.

Kotex is supremely comfortable. Shaped to fit. Adjustable. Disposable. Stays soft for hours.

SLIPPERY ROCK POLLUTION

FISHERMEN and non-fishermen alike join in hoping that the investigation now under way by the Water Power and Resources Board of the commonwealth of Pennsylvania will effectually put an end to the pollution of the Slippery Rock Creek.

Whether or not one enjoys the sport of battling the wily trout has nothing to do with the case. The Slippery Rock Creek, the one natural beauty spot of Lawrence county is too pure a stream and provides too much enjoyment to thousands to permit it to be poisoned by the refuse from mines or whatever the cause may be.

In this industrial district we all realize that there are some streams which must be classed as industrial streams and in which there is no possibility of fishing. This is necessary and where industry needs the water no fisherman desires to put his pleasure against the necessities of industry.

The Slippery Rock is not an industrial stream. The only thing approaching industry on it are coal mines and it is possible to instal filters at a reasonable cost that will guard against the sulphur water going into the creek.

THE GAME EXTERMINATOR

Lack of respect for game laws has long been characteristic of certain elements of our population, and slack enforcement of the statutes by those who are paid to protect game birds has lent encouragement to violators.

A lamentable feature of the situation is that those who kill game out of season have nothing of the sportsman in them. They are pot hunters at heart, and a bevy of quail at roost or running in a furrow are slaughtered without a pang. They defeat the purpose of those who feed and protect game birds and other animals during the winter months that they may propagate for the benefit of all sportsmen. They can not be called "poor sportsmen," for they have nothing of the sportsman in their miserable make-up.

Depredations of the modern poacher are not confined to game birds. Even rural residents has been a spectator to the delight some huntsmen take in wantonly destroying songbirds so greatly cherished and so rapidly becoming extinct. Surely it is not their love for meat which prompts them to stifle the sweet woodland melodies. Those knowing the type would sooner believe that they are actuated more by the desire to take life and to pander to their pride of marksmanship.

It is fully established that the United States would have been devoid of virtually all wild life years ago had the majority of hunters not been thoughtful sportsmen. In the observance of the game laws and the conservation of wild life the sportsman sacrifices nothing because they are for his own interest, but he should not be robbed of these benefits by the unscrupulous and lawless hunter.

VOTING BY LIGHTS

California's legislators at future sessions in Sacramento may abandon the traditional "ayes" and "noes"; vocally expressed, for the more efficient electric voting system which displays the verdict on a measure on a scoreboard.

Under the present system a legislator's vote is often forgotten as soon as he has voiced it. In a body of 80 members, such as the assembly, even those beyond the half way mark on the roll call are not always aware of how their colleagues voted. The records, of course, reveal the story to those who care to refer to them.

Under the proposed electric voting plan, members have a "yes" button and a "no" button on their desks and when a roll call is to be taken, they press that which expresses their choice on the question before them. As the buttons are pressed, lights visible to all indicate how a member has voted. The record is then made permanent.

Such a system ought to encourage greater care in voting. When the record is visible to all who care to observe, a legislator is going to give more thought to which button he presses. Whether it will eliminate the trading of votes is questionable. And it is not to be overlooked that members in the habit of following the leader instead of using their own judgment will find it easier to determine on which side of the fence to jump.

The cost to the state probably will be the determining factor in the installation of the electric voting plan. An emissary of a legislative committee, just returned from a visit to legislative chambers in other state capitals, is reported to be ready to recommend its adoption by California. —The Oakland Tribune.

THE AFFLICTION OF THE GODLY:—Many are the afflictions of the righteous: but the Lord delivereth him out of them all.—Psalm 34: 19.

OBSERVATIONS BY N. L. S.

We are not nearly so much concerned over the "High standard of living" as we are about a "Living standard".

Henry Ford pays $5.00 per day to the help on his model farm. Wonder if he expects to make the money from the farm or his fliver factories? Good thing Henry isn't farming for a living.

If they bring the saloon back, (We didn't know they had taken it away) that will be easy. Just move the speakeasy downstairs on the corner, in plain sight.

Sign in a butchers window: "Sausage from contented pigs that made hogs of themselves."

The way the government is going after the boose racketeers for their income tax it looks as if it was trying to get some of the bonus back.

Sign on a truck reads: "Wholesale Tobacco Cigars". Many will be glad to know that they are again using tobacco in cigars.

In the "Reds" heaven, Russia, the worker does not have anything to say as to his job. Dictator Stalin and the big shots, (fed on the fat of the land,) assign him to his work—and he likes it—even if it is up in the Siberian coal mines at 50c per day, with poor clothes and food. Yet the come over here and pull off stunts, without molestation, that would get them shot in their own country.

"See Russia and die—laughing," written by the wife of an engineer employed by the Soviet government, just about describes it.

Speaking of relief work: Don't we have an "associate charity" organization here? The name sounds as if all the associated relief work should be done through this one organization, and avoid duplication of effort.

If all the congressmen who vote dry and are dry were laid end to end—wouldn't he feel conspicious?

If you think a Trust and Savings bank is an institution that will trust anybody with it's savings—well, it isn't.

"SOMETHING TELLS ME"

That a vacation is something we get, but it gets us before we get back to work again.

That some husbands and wives take separate vacations so that they can be together, on one point, that they can't be nagging each other.

That some folks take about everything with them on the vacation, leaving nothing behind but their unpaid bills.

That people who complain about the heat forget all about it when they get all stretched out on the hot sand for their sun tan.

That some people lounge around in the water so that they can be part of the drifting population.

That there must be a reason for people wearing bathing suits twice too large for them. Maybe it's because they expect to feel swell, or swell up in the water.

That water-wings helps youngsters off to a flying start as a swimmer.

Don't Wives Like Insurance? Why Don't They? They Balk Agents

By MARSHALL MASLIN

An insurance agent had me right on the point of saying yes. He'd been talking to me for an hour. He had me pushed into a corner. I'd admitted that perhaps I needed more insurance, that my health was good, that I believed in insurance, that it was barely possible I could afford a little more, and finally that I preferred twenty-pay life to ordinary insurance.

Finally I agreed, and everything was almost settled. Everything but signing my name and arranging for an appointment with the insurance doctor. He got his little fountain pen out and then I said—"I'll have to talk this over with my wife."

And that started it all over again. He smiled patiently and began another argument. After all, I was doing this for her, wasn't I? She was the one to benefit by it. Delicately he suggested that a man should decide these things for himself and tell his wife about them afterwards....And somehow I got the idea while my friend the insurance man was talking that he had said all these things many times before.

So I broke in on his argument and asked him—"Don't wives want their husband's to have insurance?"

My suspicion was justified....According to the insurance men, wives don't—not all of them, at any rate. He said that three times out of four when a man says he wants to talk over an insurance policy with his wife, she talks him out of it. He comes back and says it's all off.

The insurance man doesn't know just how it happens....Perhaps the man hides behind his wife's skirts (now that they are long enough again), but he's not quite sure that's the case. He suspects his prospects' wives think there's something selfish about insurance or that the family can use insurance premium money in some better way, or that it's bad luck to contemplate death by buying insurance....Whatever the reason, this insurance man I know shivers when a man says "I'll have to talk this over with my wife."

Is it true—or isn't it—that wives aren't exactly eager to have their husbands get insurance? Husbands believe in insurance. Don't wives? And if they don't, why don't they?

INCIDENIT

There was a lonely woman in a cottage. Day by day
Alone she walked her garden round to pass the time away.
Alone she brewed her cup of tea. At nine o'clock at night
Alone she walked from room to room to lock the windows tight.

She heard the neighbors laughing, but she never turned to see.
Nor raised her head nor took a step to share their revelry.
Her hair was thin and silvered and her face was lined with care.
And only little children ever found a welcome there.

For them she fashioned cookies to resemble polar bears
And sugar dates and walnut cakes and other sweet affairs,
And every little boy or girl who passed her threshold o'er
Could eat her stock of goodies till they couldn't swallow more.

She paid no heed to grown-ups, and the neighbors wondered why.
Alone she chose to keep her house; alone she chose to die.
The men folk thought her crazy, and the women often stood
And wondered who had wronged her, but the children thought her good.

We never learned her story. All alone one night she died
And when the children missed her, men were called to break inside.
They found her lying on the floor, her voice forever stilled,
And in the room the cookie jar, which she had just re-filled.

PUTTING ON A SHOW

Your friends have suggested a form of amusement and you are too proud to admit that it is too expensive for you.

Instead you manage somehow to meet the financial outlay.

The result is very often worry and discomfiture.

Debts are piled up that might have been avoided.

Credit is strained, reputation for promptness in paying debts is weakened.

What have you gained?

If your financial condition suffers to the extent that you are unable to pay your debts, those whom you wished to impress would be the first to censure.

They would think of you as weak and a poor manager.

They would have less respect for you than they would have had if you had admitted you were unable to join with them in things beyond your means.

The sensible and successful man schools himself to keep within his income.

He won't ruin his financial prospects by expenditures which good sense forbids.

Why are you hanging on to a social condition which is ruining you financially?

Just what do you expect to gain that will be worth what it will cost you?

REAL NEWSPAPER MAN

Harry S. New, former postmaster general, spent 25 years of his interesting life on the staff of the Indianapolis Journal, in its day a remarkably well edited newspaper, gracefully written and a model of typographical excellence. While Mr. New was serving as city editor a member of the reportorial staff was David Gibson, in recent years publisher of the Lorain (O.) Journal and Mansfield (O.) Journal. Mr. Gibson says he never knew a man possessed of such amazing clairvoyance in news reporting as his former city editor, and cites the following incident to prove it: "Shortly before midnight Mr. New was in the habit of leaving the office for a stroll through the quiet streets of Indianapolis, stopping some place for lunch. One night he returned to the office earlier than usual and called the staff about him. He astonished us by asserting that an important down-town bank probably would not open for business the next day. Several reporters were sent out to get the story. Sure enough, the bank was in trouble and the Journal was able to announce in the morning that it would not open its doors. It was an unusual scoop. Later I asked Harry New how he happened to run onto the story. He replied that in walking along the street he had noticed that the bank was brightly illuminated. A screen prevented a view of the interior, but in the expanse of window above the screen he could see the curling smoke of several cigars, indicating a midnight conference. He went to a nearby fruit store and borrowed a box that had contained oranges, using it as a step-ladder. It enabled him to view the bank's interior. A group of the city's most prominent lawyers and bankers were there in an anxious huddle. Only one conclusion was to be deduced from that fact. It turned out to be sadly true.

Mr. New brought in another tip on a financial story of great moment in our city merely from observing that a certain dog was sitting on the wrong doorstep. Two financial institutions had been battling for dominance. The heads of the two houses were bitter enemies. One evening Mr. New saw a dog that he had often noticed following his master around the streets, sitting on the doorstep of the home of one of the financiers. The dog's master was the rival big money shot of the city. Instantly the newspaperman deduced that the old boys were getting their heads together. It probably meant a merger. Sure enough, it meant just that, and the Journal had the story exclusively."

People as a rule will not believe real truth when told them by honest patriotic citizens, but they will believe every lie and misrepresentation any politician or office seeker rams down their throats. One nice thing about it, however, is that if they have any property, which they often don't, they pay plenty for listening in the end.

Relief Work Preparedness Becomes Center Of Debate

Public Belief That Cooperation Of All Possible Agencies Must Be Achieved In Coming Winter Is Shown In Course Of Discussion.

Need for more unemployment relief next winter is assumed in the public discussion of the various measures suggested. There is a wide demand for preparedness, and it is agreed that complete cooperation of all possible agencies will be required. Opposition to the dole in the form of government aid is evident, while commentators await the fruition of President Hoover's plans.

"Business itself must remedy the situation unless it wants to invite Congress to attempt it," advises the LYNCHBURG NEWS, with the conviction that "if business leaders begin now to give the matter serious consideration, there is a possibility that something may be worked out which will lessen the hardships of unemployment when winter comes." The PHILADELPHIA EVENING BULLETIN holds that 'preponderant American opinion is in favor of expansion of a plan to be worked out in industry between capital and labor, without government intervention." That paper points out that 'labor, as represented by the American Federation of Labor, has recently repeated its repudiation of the dole.'

"Mr. Hoover's plans need to be enlarged," declares the MORGANTOWN NEW DOMINION, in the belief that the coming winter may present new difficulties. Finding no present prospects of effective relief, the OKLAHOMA TIMES suggests that "something in the way of meager rations and makeshift shelter doubtless will be provided for the millions of unfortunates who face another winter without work to support themselves and their families respectably and comfortably.

"It is too late," thinks the DES MOINES TRIBUNE-CAPITAL, "to lay the responsibility for the care of the coming winter's unemployed at the doorstep of private industry. The workless millions are here. Either national or State or local agencies must meet the demands for food and clothing and shelter." The HARTFORD TIMES indorses the President's suggestion that Federal, State and local agencies join hands increasingly in the devising of means of help to the distressed," but adds that "to be fruitful, the idea of co-ordination will require energetic leadership in each sphere." The LOWELL EVENING LEADER feels that 'already, to an encouraging extent, there has been established organized co-operation of local, State and Federal forces."

"The government's Employment Service figures," according to the OAKLAND TRIBUNE, "come as an answer to those who profess to believe that the problems have been neglected. To the vast majority of citizens whose faith in the President has remained unshaken, they are in the way of renewed assurance that the administration is taking time by the forelock and preparing in advance for any shift 'n the unemployment situation."

"The best way is to get all the public and semi-public projects going, including those for which we have, or can raise, funds," says the YOUNGSTOWN VINDICATOR, while the DAYTON DAILY NEWS indorses the thought that the 'emergency is like a war situation" and that it should call for similar action. The paper remarks that "the crisis now confronting us, great as it is, is small as compared with the job faced in 1917." The SALT LAKE DESERET NEWS feels that its own community is 'not ready to assume the guilt of letting men, women and children go hungry or without adequate clothing or shelter during the fall and winter." As to the necessaries of life, the SIOUX FALLS ARGUS-LEADER is impressed by the fact that "we have more than we need, and it should not be difficult to arrange the proper distribution."

"Every force that can be enlisted" according to the SAVANNAH MORNING NEWS "is being engaged by the President in planning a nation-wide campaign to be ready early for whatever may happen in winter in the call for necessary relief. The normal South will not suffer as keenly as some other sections. In the South less fuel is needed and lighter clothing is demanded. The South is laregly agricultural and millions of families, while they may not have all the luxuries and conveniences they would like to have, are not in danger of suffering for want of food nor fuel nor shelter."

"The 'cure' of unemployment," as viewed by the SAN ANTONIO EXPRESS, "is slow and uncertain, but unemployment relief is a very present need. Through the Government agencies, many workers are now being sent to the cotton fields. The harvest just began will last until Christmas. This season wages run about half the average for recent years, but still are most welcome. Thus, South Texas has a demonstration of what the Employment Service is doing to relieve the situation."

"Unemployment insurance by the Federal government" thinks the CHARLESTON (S. C.) EVENING POST, "will inevitably lead to the dole. It might, in fact, be taken as a mere euphemism for the dole. Mr. Hoover may find himself forced to resort to a system of unemployment insurance by the Federal Government, representing it as a bulwark against the dole. And, in point of fact, he will thereby be face to face with the dole as soon as the insurance screen shall have been lifted. The only thing that will keep us from the dole will be a high-powered boom, and that within a year, or at most two years."

"This relief work," asserts the WORCESTER EVENING GAZETTE "ought to enlist the cordial co-operation of the entire country. Properly presented, the President's purpose should have the impressive quality of his mission in Belgium or of the relief work he directed during the Mississippi flood. Though less dramatic the situation presents a problem far more important than either of those. The President, from what can be gleaned of his own purpose, is approaching it in the spirit in which he dealt successfully with those local emergencies. It is a pity that the men he has called in to aid him cannot translate that spirit in terms which will kindle the enthusiasm of the public, instead of antagonizing, at the outset, many of those whom he seeks to help.

THE REASON WHY

Some sermons seem long is because we know nothing about what the preacher is talking about.

Some men hate the church is because it insists upon them being decent.

Some people are always in trouble is because they love trouble.

Some plans are impossible is because they were proposed by the opposition.

Some lies persist is because so many people wish they were true.

Some men are unemployed is because they are unemployable.

Some folks have so much bad luck is because they are always making it.

Inez Norton Is In Hospital Of Poison Effects

Former Broadway Showgirl Tries Suicide In Los Angeles Today

MAY RECOVER IS DOCTOR'S REPORT

(International News Service)

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Aug. 18.—Inez Norton, blonde showgirl and reputed sweetheart of the late Arnold Rothstein, New York gambler, was in an emergency hospital here today suffering from the effects of poison taken in a mysterious suicide attempt, according to police records.

Miss Norton rode to the hospital in an expensive automobile, parked it outside the hospital and registered as Inez Mitchell of Hollywood.

In the automobile police found ownership papers which identified her as Inez Norton.

The police surgeon reported that she had taken only a mild poison and would probably recover.

Miss Norton listed her occupation as an actress and said that she was 28 years old.

No motive for the attempt could be discovered.

The girl had won $20,000 in insurance, left her by Rothstein, in 1930, despite a contest with Mrs. Rothstein, who protested the blonde showgirl's claim.

Police Mystified

Los Angeles, Cal., Aug. 18.—Why blonde Inez Norton, who was the reputed sweetheart of Arnold Rothstein, slain New York gambler, took poison in a suicide attempt, was a mystery Los Angeles police today were endeavoring to solve.

Miss Norton, a former follies girl today was taken to her luxurious apartment in an exclusive residential district and remained under the care of a physician.

Had Ample Funds

She told police she was unemployed and "broke," but officers recalled she was reported to have received $75,000, including $20,000 in insurance, from Rothstein and his estate.

Her apartment and the expensive automobile in which she took the poison would indicate she had ample funds, police detectives said.

After swallowing poison Miss Norton, police said, evidently changed her mind about wanting to die and drove rapidly to a police hospital for emergency treatment. She arrived there shortly after midnight.

At the hospital she first gave the name of Inez Mitchell and her age as 28. Police, however, learend her identity from owner's papers found in her automobile parked outside the hospital.

Inside the hospital Miss Norton seized a bottle of liquid from attendants and attempted to drink it, but they prevented the attempt.

Miss Norton was said to have been unsuccessful in her quest for a Hollywood film career following the mysterious murder of Rothstein in New York three years ago. Police said she apparently had lived quietly but luxuriously and had not participated to any great extent in Hollywood's night life.

"TOASTING" expels SHEEP-DIP BASE naturally

(Black, biting, harsh irritant chemicals)

present in every tobacco leaf

"They're out—so they can't be in!"

The finest tobacco quality plus throat protection.

Every LUCKY STRIKE is made of the finest tobacco leaves the world can offer—the finest from Turkey—the finest from Kentucky, Tennessee, Virginia, Georgia and the Carolinas—the Cream of many crops throughout the world. But all tobacco leaves, regardless of price and kind, as nature produces them, contain harsh irritants. LUCKY STRIKE'S exclusive "TOASTING" Process—a process that mellows, that purifies, that includes the use of the modern Ultra Violet Ray—expels certain harsh irritants naturally present in every tobacco leaf. We sell these expelled irritants to manufacturers of chemical compounds, who use them as a base in making sheep-dip*, as well as a powerful spraying solution for trees, flowers and shrubs—enough to permit the daily dipping of over 50,000 sheep or the daily spraying of many thousands of trees. Thus, you are sure these irritants, naturally present in all tobacco leaves, are not in your LUCKY STRIKE. "They're out—so they can't be in!"

Hoover Will Not Call Congress To Special Session

White House Issues Statement In Response To Numerous Inquiries

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.—President Hoover will call no special session of congress, it was reiterated at the White House today in response to inquiries.

Regularly, at intervals of a week or so, the White House has denied that Mr. Hoover will summon congress into special session in advance of the Dec. 7 meeting date.

The belief prevails in some quarters, however, that the meeting date may be advanced several weeks to afford time for congress to deal with the German moratorium and possibly the administration's plans for dealing with the unemployment problem.

Troopers Taste Real Soldiering On Hike

Inspection Finds Troop In Excellent Shape

OTHER NOTES OF TROOP F.

By FORREST L. FLORIDA

COLEBROOK, Pa., Aug. 17.—Showdown inspection and field inspection was very successful in this troop this morning. Major Wolfe, our squadron commander highly praised our troop for its showing. Of course we do not have the official rating as yet and probably wont until after we arrive home when a report on the standing of both regiments will be made and each troops standing shown. We feel confident that we are close to the top.

After our strenuous preparation for the inspection the boys were given the afternoon off and given an opportunity to rest a little. Every ones equipment was checked to ascertain if there were any lost clothing or equipment. That is one thing new men have a great difficulty with, taking the proper care of their clothing and equipment and keeping it under lock and key so that it wont become "lost, strayed or stolen". Every man was issued a wooden foot locker with a padlock and key to lock their stuff up in but some still lose things regardless. After they have paid for a few things lost they will learn to be more careful.

Tomorrow, Sunday, will be this army's day of rest. The only formations held will be reveille, mess calls and water calls for the horses. The horses have to be watered and fed regardless of the day or occasion. The men must be fed, too, and an extra force will be detailed to the kitchen to help out the regular force as the boys will be given an extra good meal. From the reports received the noon mess tomorrow will be a big one with a few trimmings that we do not get through the week.

Sunday will be our last day at Colebrook for four days. Monday morning bright and early the troop, together with all the other troops of the 103rd will pack up and move out on a four day hike and divouac. No one will be left in camp with the exception of those unable to ride. Those will be very few. Not over three will be left by this troop. In this connection I am proud and glad to say that the troop still remains in very excellent physical condition. We have had less need for medical attention for the men than any camp I ever attended, and I have attended eleven, including this one. The weather has improved wonderfully and the sun has been shining regularly. This has had a great deal to do with the good health of the men. Rainy weather here keeps both men, clothes and bed clothes damp and it is sometimes difficult to prevent we "city folks" from catching cold.

Private Robert Wellendorf went home on furlough today on account of the serious illness of his wife. We were sorry to see him go but in cases of that kind there is only one thing to do.

Private Thomas Shelar, who has been in the hospital with a broken leg arrived in camp today. Mr. Rounds brought him down with him in his automobile and every one was greatly pleased to see him. He arrived just at retreat and Captain Bintrim had the troop present arms for him in honor of his willingness to come to camp and help boost our percentage of attendance. The troop now has a strength of sixty-six enlisted men and sixty-five have been present at camp. Private Fava, the absent member, is sick at home and was unable to stand the trip and the strenuous life at camp.

When we left home for camp our total enlisted strength was seventy. Since arriving at camp the following changes have occurred:

Privates Clifford D. Clingensmith, Leonard C. Holsapfel and Percy J. Knight have been transferred to the National Guard Reserve and assigned to Troop "F". Private Harold R. Bradley has been dropped as a deserter and is subject to trial by court-martial for failure to report for camp duty.

At the present writing the troop stands third in the regiment. This is excellent and will be improved before the end of camp.

Tomorrow this troop, along with all the other troops in the regiment will undergo a "show down inspection" of equipment and clothing. The results of this inspection will have a large bearing on the future of this organization.

The morning was spent in regimental drill and this afternoon is being devoted to the cleaning of clothing, equipment and our persons in preparation for the "show down inspection tomorrow". It takes a lot of hard work to make a cavalry outfit shine. Rifles, pistols and sabers have to be cleaned and oiled until they shine. Horses must be groomed again and again. Saddle equipment washed and polished, personal clothing washed and oneself washed, shaved and shined. Then the last thing tomorrow morning each individual bunk must be made up exactly the same and each man displays his extra clothing, towels, soap and shaving kit on it for the inspection of the officer detailed for that purpose. In our case, Captain Tallant, the regular army instructor assigned to the 104th Cavalry will inspect for the federal government and Major Wolfe will probably accompany him. Immediately after this inspection, the men and horses fully equipped will be inspected in the field. When this has all been done, then the men will be given a half holiday (this means no drilling).

Major W. Fulton Jackson and Lieut. J. R. Reed of the civilian committee and the Mrs. Bintrim and Mrs. Mitchell arrived today and will spend the week end with us. Mr. Rounds and Mr. McIvin will arrive Saturday night. Other visitors are expected but just whom they will be is not known as yet for certain.

Lieut. Mitchell finished sixth in the the officers "point to point" ride Sunday and rode his favorite horse "Fire". This "point to point" ride consists of riding over a marked course at an eight-mile gait; taking obstacles both natural and man made (jumps). The officer finishing the closest to the set time with his horse in the best condtiion will be adjudged the winner. Sounds easy, doesn't it? Well, don't think from my mild description that it is as it requires superb horsemanship, thorough training of both man and mount; being able to judge the gait of your horse and taking jumps and slides in the approved manner, with a judge watching you for every false move.

This troop almost established one record today that may stand for all time. Not a man reported this morning for any kind of medical treatment. This is unusual, to say the least as there is invariably at least a man or two who feels that they need a cut or scratched dressed or a physic. The change of water is rather hard on some men down here. Then to, sometimes a man may feel rather disinclined to work and has hopes the medice will find something that will let him loaf a day. This doesn't ever happen as you cannot fool these army doctors.

Your correspondent's typewriter has gone to the bad. With broken keys and sluggish machinery from the damp air it is as hard to write the news down as it is to shape it up.

F. L. FLORIDA,
Troop Clerk.

Rotary Ex-Chief Reviews Thrills Of River Voyage

"Allegheny River" Theme For Address Of T. W. McCullough Monday

All the thrills of a 300-mile river boat ride up the historic and picturesque Allegheny river from its mouth at Pittsburgh to its headwaters at Salamanca, N. Y., made aboard a government speedboat for engineering inspection purposes, were vividly portrayed by T. Wilbur McCullough, past president of the local Rotary club, when he spoke Monday before the Rotarians at their luncheon-meeting in The Castleton.

Pioneers' Highway

"The Allegheny River—Western Pennsylvania's Original Highway" was the theme upon which Mr. McCullough spoke. The message recounted its early history, the historic significance of its many tributaries and particularly, the two-day motorboat jaunt up the stream two years ago.

Not for some time has a Rotary speaker held the attention of his audience as did their former president as he recalled the interesting experiences which the upstream voyage provided.

Engineers On Board

Under the command of Col. Jarvis J. Bain, formerly U. S. Army Engineer at Pittsburgh, now transferred, the party of ten, including Lieutenant McCullough, the speedboat trip was made in record time in spite of the swift currents and innumerable obstructions encountered.

Col. Bain and his staff made the trip to determine the power possibilities and its additional advantages for navigation purposes, the speaker said. Such inspections occur every so often.

Leaving the Point at Pittsburgh, the engineers proceeded the first day to Tionesta, 155 miles away. They tied up there for the night, leaving the next morning to complete the voyage to Salamanca. The point of their destination is 289 miles from Pittsburgh.

Refers To History

McCullough interested the Rotarians with his historic applications to the Allegheny's tributaries. How river commerce climbed to a high peak in 1860 and then dwindled with the advent of the railroads and later the motor cars was told.

Salamanca is located in southwestern New York. The two-day excursion took McCullough and his chief's party through what comprises the most scenic gorges and wooded regions of the eastern United States.

Dr. C. C. Green, chairman of the program committee, presented Mr. McCullough while Fred L. Rentz occupied the presiding chair today in the absence of President L. B. Round. At the close Mr. Rentz, in behalf of the club, heartily thanked the speaker for the enlightening message.

When Toes Itch Underneath and Between WATCH OUT

Your toes and feet may be infected with that vegetable parasite called Tinea Tricophyton—if besides itching, the skin is cracked and blistered, you may be pretty sure they are.

This new disease is called Athlete's Foot because this germ flourishes in the dressing and bath rooms of clubs and gymnasiums, schools and colleges, and even in hotel and home bath rooms.

Over ten million people are infected, according to medical authorities—get rid of it before it spreads to the bottom and sides of foot and brings more itching and distress.

With one bottle of Emerald Oil you can end all the misery, itching and distress and have sound, healthy feet again in 2 weeks or money back—an 85 cent bottle lasts 2 weeks Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc. and pharmacists everywhere in America dispense it.

Arraign Blonde In New York On Shooting Charge

Miss Ruth Jayne Cranmer, Appears Before Bar Of Justice In Yates Shooting

AGREE TO POSTPONE HEARING 48 HOURS

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Aug. 18—Miss Ruth Jayne Cranmer appearing chic and composed was arraigned in West Side court today charged with suspicion of shooting State Senator Roy T. Yates, of New Jersey.

The pretty young blonde, dressed in a brown suit and hat, was self possessed as she faced the bar of justice. The state asked that the case be continued for a week but Miss Cranmer's attorney objected and a forty-eight hour postponement was finally agreed upon. This delay was granted the state to allow time for them to learn the true condition of Senator Yates.

The prosecutor declared that Senator Yates condition was such that he might die and that so far it had been impossible to question him concerning the shooting.

Negro Holdup Man Is Fooled

Sharpsville Street Car Motorman Talks Negro Bandit Out Of Robbing Cash Box

DEPRESSION IS USED AS FOOLER

(International News Service)

WHEATLAND, Pa., Aug. 18.—Convincing a negro highwayman that the current depression had put the street railway business on the rocks and left nothing but car tokens in his fare box, Samuel Felton, Marrie street Sharpsville, street car operator on the Sharon-Wheatland line of the Shenango Valley Traction Company, today was being hailed here as the hero of the first "depression story" without a sad ending.

When accosted by the armed negro as he stopped his car at the borough line, Felton began to talk fast, hoping to throw the bandit off guard. As the negro hesitated, perplexed and undecided on his next move, Felton started his car suddenly and got away.

He reported the attempted holdup to officers, who searched the vicinity without finding any trace of the negro. Felton was given credit for having saved his employers the several dollars in his pocket at the time of the holdup.

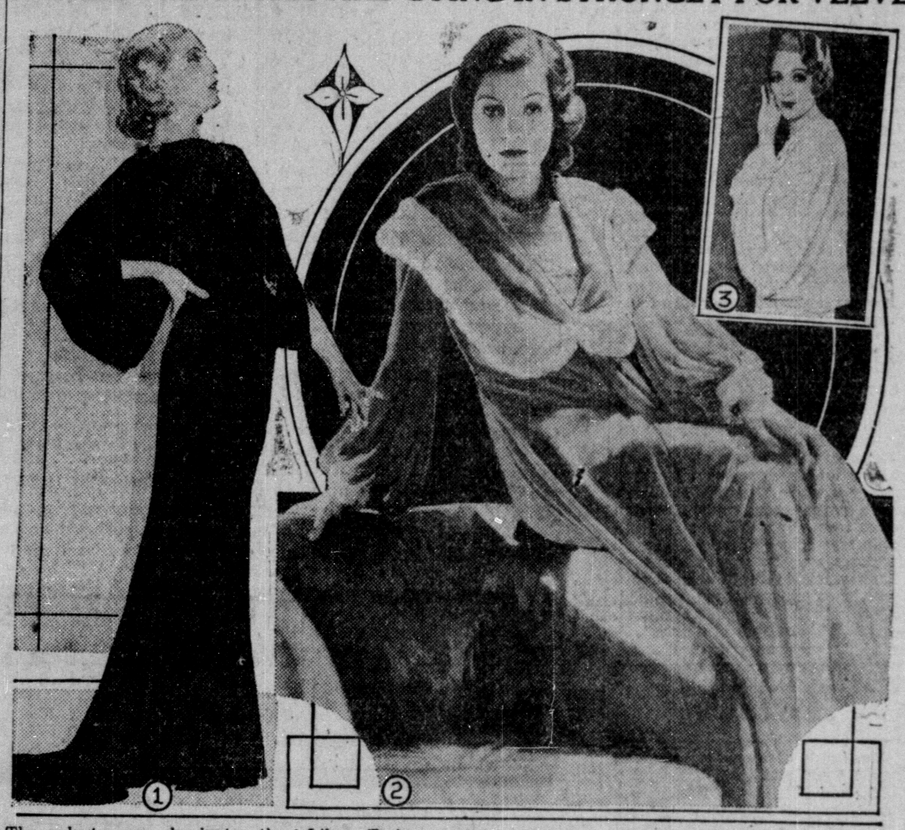
T IN NEW AUTUMN MODE FOR EVENING, BOUDOIR WEAR

4, another lovely evening wrap worn by Loretta Young. It's a robin's egg blue velvet and it's trimmed with white fox. A Juliet cap of seed pearls and rhinestones is worn with it. Winnie Lightner, 5, favors black lace intimate apparel, and throws a negligee of black velvet trimmed with embroidery about her when the phone rings unexpectedly. Anna May Wong, 6, is the one exception to the velvet ruling, as her lovely evening gown is a white satin creation with the neckline adorned with an elaborately embroidered Oriental collar. Anna May is a Chinese actress.

SCREEN BEAUTIES ARE GOING IN STRONGLY FOR VELVE



The velvet gown dominates the mode, according to advices from Paris, and screen beauties are going in for it strongly in their evening and boudoir wear, according to these pictures. Left, 1, Lilyan Tashman wears a majestic gown of black velvet with full elbow sleeves, high neckline accented with jeweled clips, and skirt that has a short train; 2, Conchita Montenegro sets off her dark beauty with a red velvet evening cloak in empire styling, with bandings of ermine; 3, inset, Bebe Daniels chooses a chenille dotted velvet evening wrap with hemline edged with white fox;

Lion's Club Hold "Backward Party"

Everything Backward At Weekly Meeting Of Lion's Club Tuesday

Just to inject something different into their meeting, the Lions club tried a "backward meeting" stunt when they met in the Elks club for its dinner and program at noon Tuesday.

Everything went backwards, the meal, the procedure of the program and the table arrangement in the room. The Lions flag, standing in a corner o the room, was upside down, and even the waitresses who served the clubmen appeared with their comely uniforms switched around. Flowers adorning the tables were turned upside down in their vases.

For the principal address, Past President B. K. Thacker spoke on his recently completed six weeks' tour of the eastern United States with a boy's party, made primarily for educational purposes. They covered the territory from Erie to Glouester, Mass.

Mr. Thacker accompanied the 20 boys as one of the five leaders of the party. They traveled over 3,300 miles, visiting principal cities and points of historic interest. Immense industrial plants were inspected.

The boys in the delegation carried by three especially designed touring trucks and smaller cars, averaged in age from 11 to 17 years.

As a special feature of the meeting, Theodore Stritmater, local baritone, sang two solos. He was accompanied on the piano by Danny Heitger.

Lion J. L. Easterly of Butler, was a special out-of-town guest of the club.

Commission Reports On Causes Of Crime

Wickersham Commission Stumped By Magnitude Of Study Of Conditions

Fail To Lay Any Definite Conclusions As To What Motivates Big Crime Waves

By GEORGE E. DURNO
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.—Stumped by the magnitude of a study which would determine the basic causes of crime in the United States, President Hoover's law enforcement commission today made public a voluminous report on the subject that was lacking in conclusion. The results totaled a quarter million words, but it was stated at the outset, "We find it impossible comprehensively to discuss the causes of crime or factors in non-observance of law."

It was indicated that unemployment, bad environment, political corruption and defective mentality were probable factors, among others, in leading men and women into unlawful pursuit, but for an answer as to the extent, it was asserted further studies would be required by other agencies.

Avoid "Wet" Issue

In many quarters, surprise was manifested at the manner in which the commission soft pedaled prohibition as a cause of crime. In all the 800 pages of the report, criminality inspired by the liquor traffic was touched upon only in a single paragraph and a foot ote of similar length. This reference came in passing in a chapter devoted to "political factors." It said:

"When particular types of organized criminals are examined, the operatioin of other contributory factors become evident. The activity of the bootleg gang, termed the greatest menace of organized crime by the Illinois crime survey, with their consequent toll of homicide, murder and violence, would not be possible without the demand for intoxicating liquors and the tremendous profit to be made in supplying it."

The footnote said, in part:

"The underworlds of the large cities have been tremendously strengthened by the manufacturers and distributors of intoxicating liquors. The immense profits derived from this source have become the backbone of criminal organization in many of these cities."

Nine members, headed by Chairman George W. Wickersham, signed the report.

Minority Report

The signature of Judge William S. Kenyon of Iowa, was not appended. Henry W. Anderson of Virginia, inserted a minority report in which he accused his colleagues of having failed to follow the president's instructions to "Make accurate determination of 'fact and cause', and follow these with 'constructive, courageous conclusions which will bring public understanding and command public support of its solutions.'"

Anderson recommended:—"There should be a thorough and courageous re-examination of the principles and structure of our social, political, legal, and economic system with a view to their orderly adaptation to the rapidly changing conditions." He further urged the establishment, in a proper federal department, of an "institute of human research," which would continue the studies of sociology.

Laborer Commits Suicide With Gun

(International News Service)

CONNELLSVILLE, Pa., Aug. 18.—Completely baffling authorities searching for a motive, Howard Garee, 54, a laborer, today fired a shotgun into his head while standing in the yard of his home at Perryopolis, near here, dying instantly.

He had just left his home ostensibly on his way to work. His wife, who was in the kitchen of the house, at the time, heard the shot fired and rushed outside to find her husband crumpled on the ground.

No motive was obtainable for the man's action.

Inhalation Of Objects Is Frequent

Science Of Bronchoscopy Advancing, Doctor States

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

A spendid advance in medical science has been the development of what is called bronchoscopy. It means the ability to see into the trachea and bronchi—the windpipe—and to extract objects from their depths.

It is far easier than you would think to inhale a foreign body. Babies and children are the most frequent victims, but older persons often are included.

You would think that the foreign body would choke the life out of you as it went into the windpipe. The surprising thing is how easily it goes down and how little trouble it makes for a while, after it gets there. The baby is seated playing on the floor with a button, or a tack, or a small metal top, and suddenly mother notices the plaything has disappeared. The baby looks solemn, but normal. Then in a few hours or days the baby develops a cough or an asthmatic attack which persists until the X-ray shows the button or tack or safety pin or toy jammed in the windpipe.

A friend of mine had an experience of this sort and describes it very interestingly. He was carefully tapping his front teeth with a pin while walking up and down his office thinking over some problem. Suddenly he looked at his fingers and noticed the pin was gone. He had just fetched a deep sigh and presto—no pin. He looked all over the floor for it, and then thought it might have been inhaled. Had an X-ray of his chest taken and there it was. He said that as it went past the glottis it caused no sensation or discomfort of any kind. Fortunately he was able to have it removed promptly.

Objects, frequently inhaled by babies and children include a special part of chicken bone—part of the breast which is thin and easily breaks off. Beads should never be given to a baby to play with unless they are strung together. Coins, buttons, safety pins, watermelon seeds, fragments of egg shell, and fish bones are others.

Peanut shells are especially dangerous as they set up an extremely severe and irritating bronchitis and are hard to remove.

Never allow a child to chew a pencil or a toothpick or a grass stalk, as fragments of these may be inhaled. And set a good example by not doing it yourself.

Dr. Chevalier Jackson of Philadelphia, who has done such splendid pioneer work in this field and who has removed thousands of foreign bodies from the windpipes of patients says that 90 per cent of such accidents are due to carelessness—"Carelessness in the praparation of foods, carelessness in putting inedible objects in the month and carelessness of parents and nurses."

Lottery Shows Slight Slump Through Italy

ROME, Aug. 18.—The Italian state lottery, although showing recently a small decrease in its annual profit, is still a very useful source of income. Between July, 1930, and May, 1931, the latter yielded the state 454,327,687 lire. This shows a drop of about 9,000,000 lire compared with the same period of 1929 and 1930.

The importance of the lottery for the state appears evident when it is seen that the receipts are about four times greater than the net income derived from the state railroads, postal and telephone services, the figures for which for 1930 and 1931 are given as 143,927,444 lire.

The great bulk of the money spent on the lottery comes from the poorer classes in small sums of from two to ten lire. There is a drawing every week in eight of the principal Italian cities. A blind boy draws five numbers from an urn every Saturday on a balcony in full view of the public in the local chief revenue office.

The numbers from one to 90 are taken up in the urn. It is open to the public to bet on two, three or four numbers being drawn at one or all of the various drawing stations. To win anything at all it is necessary to guess correctly at least two numbers out of the five drawn by the blind boy. The odds paid for two correct numbers out of five are not very high, and a five lire bet brings in, in case of success, about 125 lire.

Guessing three correct numbers means winning a big premium running into thousands of lire for a small bet of five lire. Four correct numbers mean a small fortune, but a "quaterno", or four correct numbers, is very seldom brought off.

Play Chess For 1500 On A 35-Foot Board

(International News Service)

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., Aug. 18—Using human players the most unique chess pageant ever witnessed was held here recently, sponsored by the New Bedford chess club.

On a 35 foot square canvas playing board, the "human pieces" attired in their brilliant costummes as queens, knights, kings, heralds, etc., took their positions and sides were taken. Dr. Jacob Gennert, secretary of the chess club was the opponent of Harry Elfland of Boston.

Dr. Gennert and Elfland first made their move on a regulation chess board off to one side of the canvas, and then proceeded to the "human playing board" and duplicated the play. In this way 1500 people were able to witness in detail each move made by the contestants. Two games were played resulting in an even split for Dr. Gennert and his opponent.

During the play each move was explained and announced.

Venus, Stolen, Found, By Vaccination Mark

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 18—Identified by a "vaccination mark" Venus de Milo, missing here for four days, was recovered by the police in San Francisco's famous Telegraph Hill artist's colony.

Venus was abducted according to a police circular from the lobby of a fashionable apartment house. Of fine bronze she was two and a half feet tall, and weighed 150 pounds. A mark on her right shoulder was described as a "vaccination mark" in the police circular. As the result of a telephone tip, police found the Venus in a private park on Telegraph Hill, arranged artistically with another statue of a man in armor. They draped her modestly in a blanket and brought her to police headquarters to be recovered by the owner.

It has just been declared illegal to ride a bicycle while intoxicated in the city of St. Paul. The city should now pass a blanket ordinance making any form of suicide a felony.—The Goshen (Ind.) Daily News-Times.

"No Pay, No Verdict" And Jury Won Out

(International News Service)

DATTO, Ark., Aug. 18—"No, pay: no verdict."

That was the ultimatum handed down by a jury in a justice court trial here when it was rumored that there were insufficient funds to pay the juror's fees.

The jury filed into the courtroom and announced to the presiding justice that no verdict would be given until the members of the jury had received their pay.

The justice pleaded with them and even threatened to lock them up, but the twelve men remained firm in their demands.

Court finally proceeded when an interested attorney agreed to pay the fees if the party losing the suit failed to do so. The verdict was for the plaintiff.

Cuticura Healed Large Pimples on Face. Very Annoying.

"The trouble began with a breaking out of pimples and blackheads on my face. The pimples were very large and festered. They were very annoying because of the unsightly blemishes, and at times were very sore. My trouble lasted about two years.

"I tried other remedies without success. I began using Cuticura Soap and Ointment and noticed a great improvement in about a month. I continued using them and in two months I was completely healed." (Signed) Miss Rose E. Berger, 1007 N. Adams St., Wilmington, Del., March 23, 1931.

THE PARENT PROBLEM

Parents Apt To Slip Up In Grammar

Confusing Thoughts Used Correctly In These Sentences

By GARRY C. MYERS, PH. D. Head Division Parental Education, Cleveland Clinic, Western Reserve University.

We parents sometimes slip grammatically. We revert, perhaps, to same bad form of expression which we had learned in early childhood. When we are on guard we may be very accurate in this matter. Sometimes, however, we may not be quite sure about the correctness of the form of a statement we wish to make.

The four verbs which seem to bother people most are sit, set, lie, lay, and their different forms. Some college graduates are confused in the use of them.

If we parents use them wrong our children surely will. Here is some practice for you. Read these sentences over and over and make other sentences like them.

It is hard for a little child to sit still.

Nervous children should lie down for several minutes before the evening meal.

The child sat beside his mother, who read to him.

Little Ossie lay still for 15 minutes before he went to sleep.

A good baby often sits or lies alone amusing himself.

Yesterday the spoiled child lay on the floor bumping his head.

Too bad every mother cannot lie down for an afternoon nap each day.

The spoiled child climbed upon the table and sat upon the butter.

After little Nora had lain on her bed for an hour she got up to play.

The baby had been lying for half an hour in a cold room without any cover.

The infant lay and kicked and talked to himself.

When Ned is very naughty his mother makes him sit on a chair for 20 minutes.

You can compel a child to lie down but you can't make him go to sleep.

Orpha's mother lies down for a nap every afternoon.

Never set a pan of hot water where the baby can reach it.

Mr. Creel set the bottle of poison on the table. The baby found it. Now Mr. Creel sits and worries.

The wise mother laid the little child with the tantrum on the floor and walked away from him.

After he had lain there for a few minutes he recovered.

Little Goldie saw her mother lay the scissors on the chair.

The scissors did not lie there long.

One should sit on a chair, not lay scissors on it.

One time Mrs. Snow lay down beside her boy of two when he was put to bed; now he always wants her to lie down beside him.

The kind father sat beside his little boy reading to him.

Never lay sharp or pointed things where the baby can get them.

We parents want to set good examples of speech before our children.

When your child makes an error in English don't scold him, never laugh at him. Quietly, kindly, patiently say the correct statement for him.

The Woman Must Pay

In New Jersey, As Mrs. Hattie Evans Awaits Chair For Husband's Murder; Lover, Actual Slayer, Gets Life

Mrs HATTIE EVANS

By ANN SILVER
Central Press Correspondent

LAKEHURST, N. J., Aug. 18.—It's the woman who pays in New Jersey. Chivalry has no place there when a defendant on trial for murder is a woman. Jersey men, it seems, are the exception to the rule that a jury will be lenient with a feminine transgressor.

Mrs. Hattie Evans, of Toms River, N. J., who last year was convicted of the murder of her husband, Robert Evans and his friend, Albert Duffy, is awaiting execution in the Trenton state prison. For the same crime, her lover, Lester Underdown, former marine, who was convicted as the actual slayer of the two men, has just been sentenced to life imprisonment.

The stocky, rather attractive brunette, who is 42 years old, could win no sympathy from the 12 men who tried her a year ago, but her sweetheart, a handsome, six-foot man of 27, has apparently made a more appealing impression. Underdown was sentenced to death along with Mrs. Evans at the first trial but, through a technical error in the court's charge to the jury, won the right to a new trial. His second trial, recently, brought a conviction with a recommendation for mercy.

No such leniency was shown with Mrs. Evans whose previous sentence still stands. Even the fact that she will be the first woman to go to the electric chair in New Jersey has failed to alter the course of justice. Every appeal for a new trial has been denied.

Final Attempt

Her attorney, however, plans to make one last attempt to save her. Maintaining that she was merely an accessory to the crime and therefore cannot pay a greater penalty than the principal, he will seek a writ of habeas corpus as soon as the execution date is set. He will also petition the governor for a reprieve so that an appeal may be made to the state board of pardons. Mrs. Evans' chances for another hearing however, are regarded as extremely slight.

Feeling among the residents of Toms River and here, where the killing occurred, runs high against the murderess. The women particularly condemn her and declare that "she got what she deserved." They are inclined to sympathize with the ex-marine, who, they maintain, was merely a tool in the older woman's hands. The state branch of the Association for the Abolition of Capital Punishment, however, has tried vainly to have Mrs. Evans' sentence commuted to life imprisonment.

Drunken Brawl Theory

The gruesome killings which appalled south Jerseyites took place in the Evans home on a lonely wooded road near Lakehurst on the night of May 16, 1930, and were at first believed to have been the result of a drunken brawl by the two men, old friends. Evens, who had just received an honorable discharge from the navy after 12 years of service, had returned from New York with Duffy, a Brooklyn janitor, with whom he planned to enter business. They were sitting in the kitchen, drinking and celebrating the occasion when they were slain.

The following morning Mrs. Evans reported to the police that the men had killed one another. Both had been shot and struck on the head with rifle butts. Duffy remained alive for a few hours but never regained consciousness.

Two Others Implicated

Mrs. Evans, Underdown, and two other marines stationed with him in the barracks at Lakehurst, were arrested. The latter two have since been convicted as accessories and are serving long prison terms. At the trial it developed that Mrs. Evans had been intimate with Underdown, a frequent visitor at her home, and in order to insure enjoyment of her love affair without interference, often threatened to git rid of her husband on his return from the navy. It was proved that she plotted the murders after she had induced Underdown to find out the time of Evans' discharge. She was present at the time of the killing but took no part in the actual murder.

Though Mrs. Evans will be the first woman to be electrocuted in this state, she will be the third from whom New Jersey has exacted the death penalty. One woman was hanged in 1868 and the other in 1878.

BENJAMIN FRANKLIN'S FAMOUS KITE EXPERIMENT
By Arthur DeV. Carpenter

Franklin made a cross of two light cedar sticks, onto which he tied a light silk handkerchief by its four corners. Silk would bear the rain. He fixed a sharp pointed wire to the top of his kite that extended about a foot above it. The kite, of course, had a tail. To the end of the twine string next to his hand he tied a silk ribbon, and where the silk and twine joined he fastened a key. When the thunderstorm came up he stood inside a doorway and flew his kite, keeping the string dry where the silk and key were attached. As soon as the string became wet, Franklin drew a stream of electric sparks from the key with his knuckle.

Used In Medicine To Overcome Most Stomach Troubles

Tennessee Woman Ends Indigestion Which Troubled Her For 30 Years

Heartburn, belching, disfiguring and painful bloating after meals—headaches, dizzy spells, nervousness and sleeplessness are but a few of the woes with which indigestion sufferers are afflicted.

But a marvelous prescription to end indigestion has been especially compounded—Dare's Mentha Pepsin, which combines natural digestive elements with powerfully efficacious stomach tonics.

One tablespoonful of this pleasant tasting elixir immediately ends distress—taken faithfully for a short period of time puts your stomach in such fine shape again that you can eat anything you want without distress or further help.

Mrs. J. Martin of Knoxville, Tenn., wrote: "I'm 62 and had stomach trouble for 30 years and for the last 10 was unable to do much work. I had terrible spells of cramps and everything I ate caused gas to form. I had nervous distress that was terrible. The first dose of Dare's Mentha Pepsin helped me—it stopped the gas and pain and it's just the medicine I need. I wish all stomach sufferers would try it."

Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc., and leading drug stores everywhere sell Dare's on a rigid money-back basis—the results you want, else don't pay one cent!

Wickersham Findings Largely Discounted By Original Report

Stewart Points Out Commission's Recent Surveys Would Carry Far More Weight Except For "Wet And Dry Comedy"

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.— The Wickersham commissioners were right when they chorussed a protest against being hurried into making a prohibition report before they were ready, months ago.

Evidently they sensed that it would make them ridiculous in its then form.

Given time to edit it more carefully, they probably would have caught and modified such contradictions as Newton D. Baker's expression of his opinion in one place that the Eighteenth amendment ought to be repealed, and in another place that it ought not to be repealed.

However, rushed as they were, they gave their wet-and-dry findings to the public paradoxes and all, and recollection of them has made most folk laugh at each report that has followed them up to date.

The commission's prohibition report was funny, certainly.

But there is nothing amusing in its arraignment of the judicial system which has kept Tom Mooney and Warren Billings in prison in California for 15 years, though proved to have been convicted on perjured testimony and with the judge who tried them and the 11 surviving jurors who found them guilty urging their release.

Its charges of penitentiary brutalities hardly surpassed in the dark ages, and of cruelties practiced upon children in juvenile penal institutions, are no joke.

Its account of official disregard of human rights in connection with the government's deportation campaign is not mirth-provoking.

Its story of third degree tortures by the police in a great majority of American cities, to extort confessions from captive suspects, is anything but laughable.

The Wickersham investigators' accusations are not exactly denied. Apologists for the systems they attack tend to explain, rather, that the abuses which the commission condemns did prevail but have been abandoned.

Nevertheless, Mooney and Billings are still behind the bars.

The labor department continues its efforts to deport Guido Serio to Italy to be shot and Li Tao Hsuan to China to be beheaded, regardless of their pleas to be permitted to go at their own expense to Russia, which already has signified its willingness to give them refuge.

Instances are cited by the Wickersham board of the third degree's employment within a year or two.

Possibly penitentiary management has improved very recently. President E. E. Dudding of the Prisoners' Relief society, than whom there is no more practical penologist, says it has. Yet I cannot forget having heard Dr. Dudding refer approvingly to the disciplining of a superstitious negro convict by locking him overnight in the condemned cell, which he firmly believed to be haunted, or that the doctor recommends the mutilation of supposedly incorrigible criminals. There are ideas and ideas of brutality.

The Wickersham commission, with its prohibition report, established some such a reputation as the individual who, once becoming known as a humorist, never is able afterward to evoke anything but chuckles, no matter how tragic he may intend to be.

Literally speaking, to say that the commission's later reports actually are laughed at is slightly too strong, but it is a fact that they are much less seriously taken than would have been the case had not its first one arrived at so astonishingly different a general conclusion from what was implied by the separately-written conclusions of more than half of its individual members.

Starting, for example, with its criticism of present deportation methods, by far the best prepared of the series, it undoubtedly would have guaranteed a respectful hearing for all that was to follow.

Getting off instead on the wrong foot, with its wet-and-dry comedy, every subsequent volume of its work has been discounted in advance of its appearance.

Invite Will Rogers To Help In Slaying Herd Of Buffaloes

GOODNIGHT, Tex., Aug. 18.—The last great herd of the "Monarchs of the Plains", survivors of a shaggy legion that once roamed the western United States in immense numbers, soon will disappear, unless public sentiment intervenes.

The famous Godnight herd of wild buffaloes will be disposed of by means of a huge hunt, in which Will Rogers, Tom Mix and other celebrities have been invited to take part.

The hunt will be held in November, on the famous Goodnight ranch of Armstrong county, established in 1876 by Col. Charles Goodnight, pioneer cattleman of the Texas Panhandle.

In the early days of the Goodnight ranch, one of the largest in the West, only a few buffaloes roamed the plains country. At the suggestion of Mrs. Goodnight the colonel roped and corraled three calves, a bull and two heifers.

From these progenitors Goodnight bred the huge herd, which at one time numbered more than 2,000 head. Recently the herd has been thinned out until about 200 animals grazed peacefully on the Goodnight lands.

Not only will the buffaloes be disposed of, but the Goodnight ranch also will be broken up. The ranch comprises 40,000 acres, lying two miles west of Clarendon, and adjoins the JA ranch, also established by Goodnight and now owned by the estate of Lady Adair of London.

Several of the younger buffaloes will be sold or donated to zoos, the majority of the herd will be hunted down and slaughtered in oldtime western style.

Indian braves from the Kiowa tribe also will attend the hunt and one of their number will be allowed to slay a buffalo with bow and arrow.

LOOKING BACK
IN NEW CASTLE

There are numerous people in the city who will remember the time when there were two telephone systems doing business here, one known as the Central District and Printing Telegraph Company, now the Bell Telephone company, the only telephone system doing business in this district, and the other first known as as the Citizen's Telephone Company and later as the American Union Telephone Company, an independent system, which passed out of existence quite a number of years ago. The Bell System under the name previously mentioned began business in New Castle in 1881 with twenty-five or thirty subscribers. They now have many thousands of subscribers here. This system has continued to grow consistently through the intervening years until now this city is the center of one of the busiest districts of the Bell Telephone company in Western Pennsylvania, with all the latest equipment and the possibility of telephoning any place in the entire world. The Citizens Telephone company and its successor company started with 110 subscribers and grew for quite a number of years until its clientele reached approximately 1,500. In the course of time, however, its patronage began to decrease, until finally it went into the hands of a receiver and finally out of business. There was one advantage, especially to the business men of the district, in the passing of the independent telephone company and that was the reduction in the expense of maintaining two different telephones.

Mayors Plan To Discuss Ills Of Coal Industry

Forty Mayors From Pennsylvania, Ohio, West Virginia To Meet In Wheeling

RAIL RATE WILL ALSO BE DISCUSSED

(International News Service)

WHEELING W. Va., Aug. 18—This West Virginia metropolis today prepared to receive 40 mayors from cities and towns in the Pennsylvania-Ohio-West Virginia area who are scheduled to convene here tomorrow night in their quest for a solution of the ills of the coal industry and a plan to stabilize the industry without governmental control.

While no official confirmation was obtainable, it is reported that rail rates would come up for consideration in connection with the plan already proposed which contemplates the creation of a new competitive field to embrace eastern Ohio, western Pennsylvania and northern West Virginia, exclusive of the Fairmont region.

Await Reaction

West Virginia mining towns waited, meanwhile, for official reaction at Washington to a telegram sent to William N. Doak, Secretary of Labor by Van A. Bittner, chief international representative of the United Mine Workers of America in the northern West Virginia field.

Bittner declared the union is willing to allow President Hoover or Secretary Doak to act as sole arbiter in the present controversery and offered to allow the miners to go back to the mines pending the decision of the arbiter. Bittner's offer he said, was contingent on the acceptance of the coal operators.

The telegram stated that operators in the territory, where 6,000 men are on strike, planned to reopen the mines on a non-union basis and that hundreds of mine guards had been placed at the mines "for the purpose of creating a general reign of terror."

(International News Service)
WILKES-BARRE, Pa., Aug. 18.—Anthracite miners of district No. 1, United Mine Workers of America, today will enter a protest before the Interstate Commerce Commission against applying the proposed 15 percent rail freight increase to Anthracite coal.

A delegation representing the district left for Washington, where E. C. Marianelli, counsel for the district union organization, will appear before the commission.

Increase of freight rates on anthracite, the mine delegation will contend, will tend to increase unemployment in the hard coal fields by placing anthracite at a disadvantage in competitive markets and thus lowering production.

Donelli-Gray Battle To Draw

Fans See Some Of Best Fights Ever Staged In This City

EDDIE ELDRIDGE DEFEATS RITCHIE

New Castle fistic fans were treated to a slam-bang bill of boxing Monday night at the Castle Bowl. In the last of the four round bouts Bill Donelli and Homer Gray local middleweights fought four fast rounds to a draw. A fair sized crowd witnessed the 7 fistic pyrotechnics.

In the last bout Doneli entered the ring tipping the beam at 162½ pounds. Gray's weight was the same. They battled from bell to bell. In the opening round both sluggers landed heavy rights. Near the end of the round Donelli and Gray slugged in the middle of the ring as the bell ended the round.

Like the opening frame the two fighters came out fast on the second and slugged from the start until the end of the round. Both landed timely lefts and rights. In the third round Donelli landed a solid right to Gray's jaw which jarred Gray. Gray shook off the blow and continued the slugfest which had the crowd cheering throughout the encounter.

The final round saw both fighters making a whirlwind finish. Both sluggers landed to the head time and again. The decision was called a draw. The fight was fast and pleased the crowd.

Merriner Wins

Fans were treated to another slambang bout in the fifth contest on the bill between Clyde Merriner of Akron and Mickey Ambrose of Warren, Ohio. Merriner weighed 162½ and Ambrose entered the squared area tipping the scale at 160 pounds.

The two fighters tossed punches as soon as the bell sounded. Near the end of the round Merriner landed with a solid right on Ambrose's chin, sending the Warren battler down. He got up without a count as the bell rang ending the first round. The second round proved fast also with both boys landing several solidly blows to the face.

Ambrose came out fast in the third frame and started the round by landing to Merriner's face. Before the round was over Merriner appeared tired. In the final round the gladiators made a fast finish in the hope of earning the decision. The two boys continued their slugging as the bell ended the bout. The decision went to Merriner.

Arnold Easily Wins

Tommy Arnold whose appearance in the ring last night was the first in sometime against Paul Kropic of Akron, Ohio, proved an easy win for Arnold who hails from this city. Arnold's weight was announced as 140 pounds while Kropac weighed 137¾ pounds. Both fighters took things easy in the first round.

Arnold a southpaw was willing to mill but the Akron battler appeared to be holding back which made the fight look a bit slow. Arnold was awarded the bout after four rounds.

Ritchie Knocked Out

The third bout on the card between Ray Ritchie this city and Eddie Eldridge of Akron, Ohio proved one of the best on the card. Ritchie entered the ring weighing 121 pounds while Eldridge weighed 120 pounds. From the start until the bout ended in the third round the big crowd was on its feet cheering.

Eldridge rushed Ritchie when the opening bell sounded. Ritchie greeted Eldridge with a pretty right to the head. They slugged and action was galore until the round ended. The second round was also fast with Ritchie the agressor. Eldridge landed several nice blows in this round, however.

In the third frame Eldridge came out swinging. Ritchie jarred the Akron battler with a terrific right to the jaw. Eldridge came back with a solid right to Ritchie's jaw near the end of the round which dropped Bob Latera's protege. Referee Chip counted Ritchie out as he was trying to regain a fighting position.

Mangine Goes Good

The second bout on the card brought together Vito Mangine, 134¾ of this city and Young Terry, 131 pounds of Akron, Ohio. Like the remaining bouts this fight proved another crowd pleaser.

From start to finish they slugged. In the third round Mangine landed a pretty right to the jaw. The Akron battler went down like a log. Before the referee finished his count of ten the bell sounded saving Terry.

Scotty Wins

Terry made a nice comeback in the fourth and final round to win the decision. Mangine gave Terry an opportunity to recuperate in the last canto. Terry came back strong near the end of the round and had Mangine practically off his feet as the round ended. The decision went to Terry.

The curtain raiser found Billy Mido of this city meeting a tough customer in Young Scotty of Akron. Mido weighed 119 while Scotty entered the ring weighing 116.

Both Eyes Closed

Both fighters put up a slambang bout which had the large crowd on its feet throughout the bout. Scotty's experience proved too much for Mido whose two eyes were completely closed and his nose was bleeding as the bout ended. In the third round Mido landed flush on Scotty's jaw nearly upsetting the Akron battler. The decision was awarded to Scotty.

Tommy Jones and Chauncey Davis were the judges and George Chip, former middleweight champion of the world was referee. He was on his toes all the time and his work was satisfactory. It was the first time the ex-champion had worked as referee in months. Pete Capitola was the time keeper and Jack McDougall the announcer. Ed. Fritz made the matches and promoted the show.

Bebe Biondi of New Castle was the Deputy Commissioner and handled the show in a very satisfactory manner.

Chicago Cubs Move Forward

Cubs Defeat Boston Braves Twice And Go Into Second Place Ahead Of Giants

TIGERS DEFEAT YANKEES 8-2

By COPELAND C. BURG
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Aug. 18.—Chicago today moved into second place, passing the New York Giants, as they grabbed their second double header in as many days from the Boston Braves. They are still almost nine games behind the champion Redbirds of St. Louis.

Pat Malone dished up only three singles in the first affair, winning 6 to 0. Smith gave Boston eight hits in the 3 to 2 finale, which went ten innings. A wild peg by Randy Moore from third permitted Grimm to reach first in the tenth and he scored with the run that counted most on Bell's single.

The Giants broke even with the Cardinals, losing the first clash 6 to 5, but taking the evening bill 7 to 5. Jim Bottomley, knocked a homer to feature the Cardinal triumph, while Terry spun a four-baser in the Giants' prosperity that started a five-run rally in the eighth.

Reds Take Two

The Brooklyn Robins lost the last of their tail feathers as they dropped a double bill to the extremely lowly Cincy Reds. Silas Johnson scored a well earned victory in the opener, taking it 4 to 1 with only five Robin hits, while Carroll pitched the night cap, winning 8 to 3. Cuccinello did some important hitting for the Reds.

Larry French of the Pirates has nobody to blame but himself. He was going great guns against the Phillies and would have scored a shut-out, except for contributing two errors. He won 4 to 2, however. The Phillies retaliated in the second half of the program as Collins hurled masterfully, horsecollaring the enemy 3 to 0.

The great booby prize battlers, the Chicago White Sox and the Red Hose of Boston were tied today for sixth place in the American league after the Bostonians took the final of the series in Chicago 3 to 2. Russell pitched for the winners and eased through to a success.

Tigers Beat Yanks

Vic Sorrell surprised the New York Yankees and himself by winning a ball game. He limited the New Yorkers to seven hits and Detroit won, 8 to 2. Gerald Walker celebrated his arrival from Toronto by hitting a three bagger to score a run and also stole home. Gerald is one of two outfielder brothers introduced in Detroit by Bucky Harris this spring and has been getting seasoning with the Canadian club. Other clubs idled it.

Lou Gehrig Is Real "Iron Man"

Gehrig Will Play His 1,000th Consecutive Game With Yankees At Detroit Today

HOPES TO BREAK LEAGUE RECORD

By LES CONKLIN
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Aug. 18.—It was late of an October afternoon about ten years ago on South field, New York, and the eleven moleskin warriors of Columbia crouched in the shadow of the Amherst goal posts.

The ball was about three yards from the posts, which in those days stood directly on the last chalk mark. Wild-eyed undergraduates in the stands were rooting frantically for the touchdown which would mean steak instead of pancakes during the ensuing week.

Columbia's left half took the pigskin and dove through left tackle like a runaway freight train. The stocky sophomore back bounced his head squarely against one of the posts with such force that the impact could be heard in the stands.

Trainer and water boy dashed on the field to revive the stunned player, but before they could reach the scene he was on his feet and muttering "gimme that ball again."

Gehrig Is Tough

"Tough, that guy," commented admiring thousands in the stands.

Tough he was, is and will be for a long time, that Henry Louis Gehrig. Now baseball's new "iron man," today at Detroit he will play his 1,000th consecutive American League game as a member of the New York Yankees.

The start of Gehrig's remarkable streak on June 1, 1925, marked the break-up of one great New York machine and rebuilding of another. Less than a month earlier, Everett Scott, the veteran New York shortstop, had been benched, snapping a streak of 1,307 consecutive games is the record run for the Major leagues.

Joey Sewell, now a member of the Yanks, played in 1,103 consecutive games with Cleveland before taking a rest last summer.

Two more seasons without a break and Gehrig will shatter Scott's mark. Hungry Lou's remarkable physicue, especially his sturdy legs, has enabled him to keep going despite nasty spills.

Walker Knocks Out Jack Gagnon Quick

(International News Service)

BUFFALO, N. Y., Aug. 18—Mickey Walker, former middleweight champion, who recently held Jack Sharkey to a draw, today added a new heavyweight victim to his record. He knocked out Jack Gagnon, once a mighty man from Boston, in the first round here last night.

Only two blows were struck. Walker hit his opponent with a right that dropped him and after he got up Mickey sent over a left hook that crushed Gagnon for keeps.

Scarazzos Will Play Bessemer

Scarazzos Hope To Regain Top Of Heap In Lawrence County League By Victory

UNDECIDED ON STARTING HURLERS

Another exciting game is due the Lawrence county baseball fans when the fast Bessemer team tangles with the Scarazzo aggregation at Centennial field Wednesday night at 6:30 sharp.

Bessemer holds a victory over the Shenango Pottery team that puts the Lawrence county second half fight into a tied knot. By defeating the Scarazzos last Saturday, the Pottery is sharing the leadership with the coal heavers. Bessemer is coming to town with a determined team to put the Scarazzo team out of the race.

Scarazzos are fighting hard to get back into the leadership again. Manager Alec Black does not know who will be assigned to the mound duty, but it is expected that Johnny Shields will get the call, with Fiz Rodenbaugh, Paul Coates, George Byak or Jewie Coen held for second choice.

Bessemer will use Snyder or Nord on the mound . Snyder gave the Scarazzos a scare in the last meeting at Bessemer. He may be used again.

Central Press Sports Editor
Big League Fan's Lament

The ball teams battle every day
With pellet, mitt and mace,
But life is still quite dull and gray,
The fight's for second place.

Having mauled, not to say massacred, Brooklyn's pitching staff right in their own backyard, the St. Louis Cardinals have now advanced to such a distance over their rivals that Gabby Street, the reformed catcher, can take the conduct of current ball games a bit easier and join his slender arch-rival Connie Mack, in contemplation of world series matters.

That is, the Cards are about in."

As the St. Louisans all but clinch their second straight pennant we note with surprise many experts crediting their chain-store system for it all.

Why not give Mr. Street some of the credit?

When Gabby took control for the 1930 season, the Cards were no better behaved group of major league athletes than were to be found elsewhere. To make matters more difficult, the Cards had become accustomed to seeing their managers booted out after one season's labor. There was nothing about Gabby when he first took over the reins to make him look any better—if as good—as Rogers Hornsby, Billy Southworth, Bill McKechnie, Bob O'Farrell, all of whom remained but one season at the head of the Cards.

But Gabby, the reticent, quiet, understanding sort of manager has changed all that. Now headed for his second pennant in his second year as pilot, Gabby caries a contract to pilot the Cards in 1932 in his hip pocket.

You can't make your correspondent believe the chain store system is solely responsible for that. True many of the Cardinals were plucked from Red Bird outposts but while you may be able to put a star diamondeer into a big league uniform not every one can make him play big league ball.

The chief asset of the chain store system to the Cardinals has not been, as one might believe, the development of stars. Ability to replace ailing of failing athletes at a day's notice has made their farms a decided help to the Cards.

One winning virtue of the Cardinals is their sense of humor.

Your correspondent happened across Gabby Street the day after Flint Rhem's now famous disappearance with a story that he had been forced to partake of forbidden beverages in huge quantities by a group of rough customers.

Was Gabby greatly annoyed or upset?

Not so you could notice it. His comment chiefly concerned the excellence of the dessert which he was eating and the next day's ball game with the Brooklyns. He thought some of the stories written by New York scribes concerning the incident very amusing.

Mr. Street you see, knows how to keep his shirt on.

A writer of advice to girls tells the young woman of today she must get a stranglehold on a man's heart, imagination or conscience. But not, it is unnecessary to add, while he is at the wheel of a motor car.—The Hamilton (Ont.) Spectator.

Don't Stoop Too Much In Putting, Roy Grove Warns

By ROY GROVE
Central Press Golf Writer

NUMBER 58

Nine golfers out of ten on the putting green, stoop over the ball so far as to hamper the stroke and throw the ball off line when struck.

The best of putters stand more erect. This gives them a better view of the ground covered and takes the club along on a smooth stroke.

In stooping over the ball the golfer loses control of the arms and wrists and will pull the ball or push it to the right of the cup.

The right arm rests on the right leg and the wrists do the work for the putt.

To hold far down on the leather shortens the stroke and the player will cut the arc to the left slicing the putt off line.

The best method for long putts is to follow the blade of the club through after the ball and on out towards the hole.

Never more other than the wrists for the shorter putts and be sure the club comes up after the ball and not around for a cut or spin.

Look at the ball with the left eye and twist the head far to the right. This keeps the head from coming up fast after the ball is hit.

Always feel comfortable and relaxed.

Belmont Kayoes Buck McTiernan

Jimmy Belmont Kayoes McTiernan At Pittsburgh In Gruelling Battle

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 18.—Definitely settling a long and bitter rivalry, Jimmy Belmont today held a technical knockout victory in the tenth round of his fight with Bucky McTiernan, with only 30 more seconds of the final session to go when the bout ended.

Excelling his neighborhood rival throughout most of the match, but gaining in power in the last two rounds, Belmont sent his opponent to the floor once in the ninth round and twice in the tenth before the referee handed him the decision in the face of McTiernan's obvious weakness.

It was the second decisive triumph for Belmont, the slugger, over McTiernan, the boxer, in recent months. Coming from the same locality, the two have been rivals and bidders for popularity from the fans of the same district.

"A Ply is one of a number of layers of rubberized cotton fabric—either cord or square woven—extending from bead to bead and forming the body of the tire." Definition of the National Better Business Bureau.
Any fabric merely under the tread of a tire is a breaker strip and not a ply.

FIRST QUALITY TIRE

ALLSTATE tires have full ply construction. And ALLSTATE has as many plies as any other first-quality tire. Directly under the tread, in every ALLSTATE cross section, you will see another layer of fabric. Some people call it a ply. But Sears, Roebuck and Co., the National Better Business Bureau and the majority of good tire manufacturers call it a breaker strip. We are willing to accept the standard set for the tire industry.

ALLSTATE Tires are built with plies of cotton that has been carefully selected for elasticity — "super-elastic" we call it. Read the laboratory analysis on the left. See what experts learned to be the truth. See the ALLSTATE cross sections at any Sears store. Notice the double woven breaker strip in addition to the plies. Then make up your mind that the next time you buy tires you'll buy ALLSTATE—America's greatest tire value!

Name on Request*

CHALLENGE CERTIFICATE

Mount an ALLSTATE on one wheel of your car against a tire of any other make on the opposite wheel. If the ALLSTATE does not give you greater service, longer mileage, more riding comfort, or a saving up to 25% in price, we will give you a new ALLSTATE tire FREE.

COMPARE These PRICES

Automobile manufacturers do not use the Second Quality Tires of National Manufacturers as original equipment. Why should you take the risk when you can save money by buying genuine, FIRST QUALITY ALLSTATE TIRES, backed by a responsible guarantee and with a saving of 25%?

NEW YORK STOCKS

Oils And Industrials Lead Rise In Stocks

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Aug. 18.—The Oil stocks and the Industrials led the market into higher price levels in the early trading today. Reassuring improvement in the Ohio banking situation relieved the market of a considerable strain and the stocks which were under selling pressure near the close of yesterday's session snapped back sharply. The Oils had the benefit of the enforced shutdown of Texas and Oklahoma wells, which will cause a temporary decrease of a million barrels daily in Crude Oil production.

American Can started the day nearly 2 points higher. U. S. Steel had an over night rise of a point and sold up 2 points at 91½ in the second hour. J. I. Case crowded the bears with its 4-point jump to 66½ and Auburn Auto which was also under pressure near the close of Monday's market, jumped 6 points.

The enforced restriction of crude oil production in Texas and Oklahoma, a temporary emergency measure, has already had the effect of stiffening prices for Crude and Refined Oils. Merger talk was also renewed in Wall Street as the Oil shares forged ahead. Socony-Vacuum, the new combination, sold at its record high price of 19⅞. Standard of New Jersey reached a new high on the move at 41, up 1½, and Standard of California was up 1⅝ at 40¼. Sinclair JN Tidewater, Petroleum Corp and other low-priced Oils enjoyed the best market they have had this summer, and reached the best price levels on the move.

Railroad stocks, as well as the Coppers and Motors, made very little progress. Amusement stocks were in good demand at slightly higher prices. Air Reduction, in the chemical group, advanced 3 points to 83 and Johns Manville recovered 2¾ at 54½. The market slowed down as usual near the noon period but prices of the day's favorites were well maintained. Commodity markets were irregular with Cotton off about 10 points.

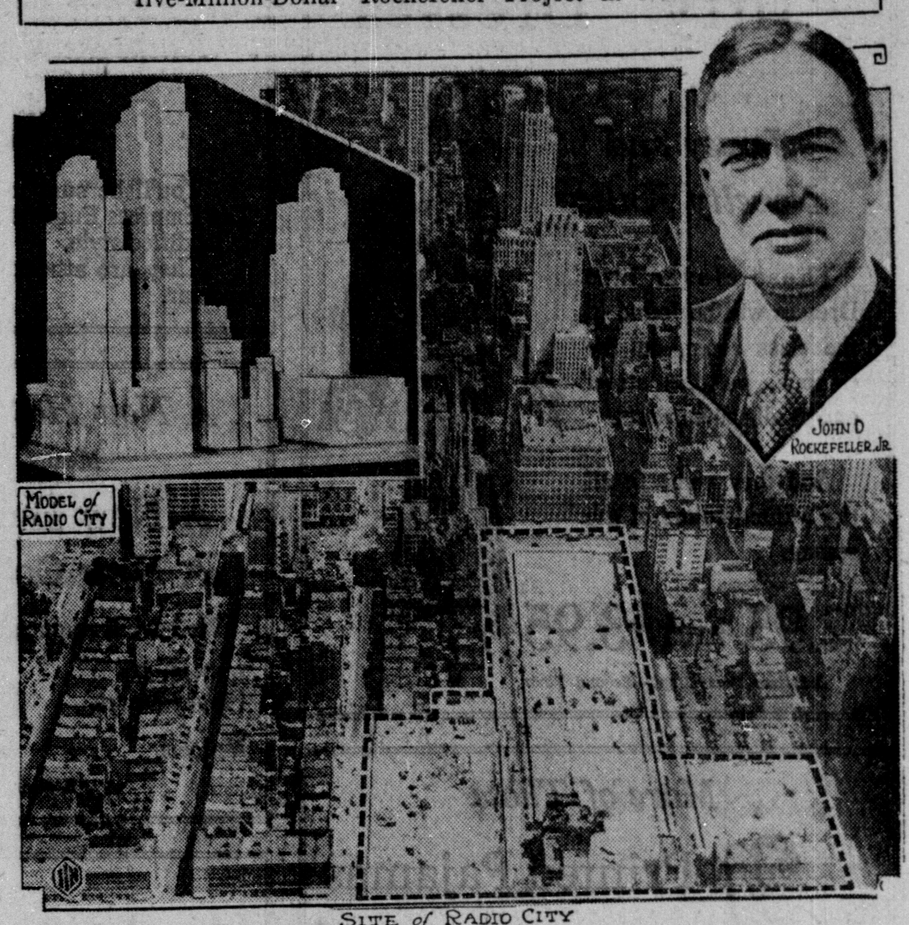
Velvety Lawns...Luxurious Flowers...Splashing Fountains and Stately Trees Will Form Wonder-Gardens Atop Buildings Comprising Twenty-five-Million-Dollar Rockefeller Project in New York



SITE of RADIO CITY

A replica of the Hanging Gardens of Babylon in the heart of New York, sixty stories above the ground, is one of the novel features of the gigantic Radio City development. The gardens will be truly Babylonian in type conforming to the set-back architecture. Each of the terraces, where space permits, will have its lawn, its flowers and its fountain and from the sixty-six story tower of Radio City's highest building the surrounding group will look like one huge mass of verdure. The new plans call for many changes in the original specifications, chief among them being the elimination of the much criticised "pill-box" building. In its place will be two low buildings of lines more in keeping with the general plan. It is believed that these two structures will be occupied by the French and British governments. Another new feature is the plan for the largest theatre in the world, seating 6,500 persons and costing $7,000,000. The theatre will be connected with the other buildings by a series of viaducts high above the street. This air view of the site of Radio City shows its magnitude.

School Girl, 19, Has Hitch-Hiked Over 5,000 Miles

(International News Service)

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 18.—Miss Betty Fisk, 19-year-old Chicago school girl, was resting up here today after "hitch-hiking" 5000 miles across the United States, into old Mexico, and up the Pacific Coast—alone.

Miss Fisk was arrested twice for vagrancy, once in Brownsville, Tex., and the second time here. Many times she was forced to use her wits to extricate herself from serious difficulties. But still undaunted and wearing a smile, she appeared before Municipal Judge Alfred J. Fritz and expressed her determination to get a "hitch-hiker's" perspective of Canada before she returns home.

Judge Fritz dismissed the vagrancy charge and presented her with a "traveling allowance."

The girl said that a "wanderlust" inherited from her Roumanian gypsy grandmother prompted her to steal away from her home in Chicago on June 7 and start on a "hitch-hiking" tour of America.

"I have traveled over 5,000 miles, visiting more than twenty states in this country and four in old Mexico," she said.

"It's great fun—being picked up by motorists on the highway. But, of course, one has to be discreet.

"Truck drivers are the nicest men. And men with grey hair or blue eyes are usually nice too. I hate riding with women—they preach to me too much, and tell me how dangerous it is for a young girl to travel alone.

"I guess it's dangerous all right. It takes a lot of nerve. Lots of times I have been scared to death but I tried not to show it.

"Very few girls, I think, are qualified to become successful 'hitch-hikers.' At any rate, I wouldn't advise any girl to try it. People everywhere have been very kind to me. Nearly every motorist who gave me a ride also gave me money.

"At times I have had to work in order to eat. In Arizona I had a job painting mail boxes for the farmers."

The courts have decided, we are told, that the word "lousy" isn't libelous. Now if we only had assurance that it isn't contempt of court.

Correct This Sentence: "I'll never cut wages," said the man, "so long as I can earn as much as one of my workers."

One of the five recently discovered elementary substances in the atmosphere, xenon, is rare. Only one part is found in 170,000,000 parts of air.

Out of the Frying Pan Into the Fire

The wrecked airplane of Captain Lisandro Garay, of Honduras, is pictured aboard the S. S. Biboco, a U. S. Shipping Board freighter, after the airplane, with its nearly exhausted pilot, had been picked up at sea off the Georgia coast. For more than 24 hours, Garay floated with the wreck of his plane until sighted by the Biboco. The Honduran flier was endeavoring to make a non-stop hop from New York to his homeland when he fell into the sea. He faces a court martial upon his return to Honduras, it is said, due to his failure to return home upon orders to participate in a current revolution. Capt. Garay (right) and his rescuer, Capt. Lee of the Biboco, are shown in insert.

All Oil Wells In Texas Shut Down At Noon

State Militia Goes About Closing Down All Producing Wells In Texas Field

OPERATORS ARE PROTESTING

Drastic Measures Being Resorted To In Southern Oil Fields—Except Price Boost

(International News Service)

KILGORE, Tex., Aug. 18.—The last of east Texas oil wells were being closed down by the State Militia today and by tonight not a producing well was expected to be open anywhere in the field.

More than 800 of the approximately 1600 wells had been closed this morning and owners of the majority of the others said they would be closed by noon.

Noon today was specified by General Jacob Wolters, commander of the militia, as the "deadline" hour. Owners of any wells producing after noon would be subject to arrest Wolters said and would be held in confinement until martial law is raised.

Request Refused

Several operators yesterday asked permission to produce enough crude oil from completed wells to supply fuel on drilling jobs.

The request was refused, but General Wolters said the shutdown order does not apply to drilling projects.

"Any wells being drilled may be completed and brought in." The commander said, "but they must be shut down at once".

Wells of seventy-four companies were known to have been shut in early today and several hundred which were still operating this morning were practically all independently owned.

There had been no opposition to the military forces so far, General Wolters said.

Operators Protest

Complaints came from some operators, however, that water encroachment already present would ruin their wells if they should be shut in completely and General Wolters solicited the counsel of Ray Richmond, chief proration umpire for this field, in such matters. Mr. Richmond was recommended for his office by the operators and they should abide by his decision, the military chief said.

Prices May Advance

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Aug. 18.—Wall Street interests identified with the petroleum industry predicted today a general advance in Mid-Continent-Texas crude oil might be expected within a few days as a result of the closing of 1,600 Texas wells.

Oil prices stiffened on Monday. Pennsylvania grade crude advanced five cents a barrel, making a total recovery of from 25 to 30 cents from the low reached in June.

College Boy Here, "Y" Camp Worker, Writes Of Doings

Clifford Pollock, W. & J. Student, Fills "Kon-o-Kwee" Counsellorship

New Castle youths active in Y. M. C. A. work often summer at boys' camps of the Association located in scattered parts, and Clifford Pollock, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry E. Pollock, Garfield avenue, a student at W. & J. College, is one officiating in such a role this year.

Pollock, known by many here, directs certain activities at Camp Kon-o-Kwee, near Fombell, Pa., owned and operated by the Pittsburgh Y. Incidentally this camp is one of the largest in the country maintained by the Y.

In a letter to friends, Mr. Pollock describes a part of his work and what camp life is like there. The interesting letter read:

Including leaders there are about 250 in camp here, about 50 below capacity. It is one of the largest run by the Y in the country. Camp Porter, situated on Lake Erie, is also maintained by the Pittsburgh branch.

The short of how the camp is run follow: There are three sections, senior, intermediate and junior. In the senior section there are eight tents, in the intermediate 12, and in the junior, where I am, there are 16. In the junior branch the section is separated into four parts of four tents, each known as units: I have to care for three assistant leaders and 29 boys.

Each section provides its own athletics, campfires, swims and the like. Every so often the entire group of 250 get together. Everything here is patterned on a scientific basis and functions well. We have four tennis courts, three baseball diamonds and a like number of mushball diamonds and volleyball courts.

Besides my duties as a counsellor, I am in charge of religious work. Sunday programs in chapel and morning thought.

Pollock also edited the mimeographed camp newspaper, "Camp Chatter" while the regular editor was away.

Amateur Radio Operators Needed In Disaster Time

Three Local Operators Will Co-operate With Red Cross If Needed

As a precaution against time of disaster the Signal Corps of the United States Army, the Communication Division of the United States Navy and the American Red Cross are working out a system of cooperation whereby amateur radio facilities are placed at the disposal of of national organization and chapters of the Red Cross.

If New Castle ever has a hurricane or any disaster and the normal lines of communication are interrupted, three local amateur radio operators will play an important part in getting word to the outside world.

These operators are H. M. Anderson of Ellwood City, (Army) call sign W8GI: Edward Attridge of 105 Richelieu ave. New Castle (Navy) call sign W8DOY and Theodore J. Wilson Wilmington road, New Castle, (Navy) call sign W8BGW.

Instructions have been issued by the chief signal officer of the Army and the director of Naval communications to these men as to the channels of communication and the manner in which they will be expected to cooperate with chapters.

Orville Potter, executive secretary of the Lawrence County Chapter of Red Cross, has received communication from headquarters asking that the local chapter contact these operators and work out a plan of cooperation which will insure immediate functioning of the units in time of disaster when normal lines of communication are inoperative.

The use of amateur radio stations in time of disaster was clearly demonstrated during the Florida hurricane of 1929. As a result of the storm all lines of communication were destroyed or otherwise put out of commission. The only means of communication which West Palm Beach and section adjoining it had with the outside world was through amateur radio station W4AFC at Palm Beach. For five days after the storm struck, that station carried on a twenty hour hour schedule.

GASOLINE FILLS CHURCH COFFERS

"Gospel measure for all and all for the gospel" is the business slogan of the gasoline filling station, operated by the South Bellaire, O., Methodist church, a bulwark of conservatism. "Our members buy gas and oil some place," says the Rev. Joseph B. Edie, pastor, "why not let them buy it from the church? Every gallon they buy is just that much they will not have to pay in cash.
